Cuba-Based MIG Fighters Fire At U. S. Shrimp Boat

Two Red Planes Attack Ship In Florida Straits

Defense Department Says Rockets Miss Craft, None Injured

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two MIG fighter planes based in Cuba made rocket firing passes Wednesday on a U.S. shrimp boat in the Florida Straits, the Defense Department announced today.

It said the shrimp boat was not hit and that its two-man crew sustained no injuries.

The department said U.S. jet intercepter planes took off when unidentified targets appeared on the Key West radar station screen.

The U.S. planes reported two MIG fighters made rocket firing passes at the shrimp boat, the Ala. A Pentagon spokesman said the U.S. planes saw the rocket firing as they were screaming out across the straits to check on the unidentified targets, which turned out to be the MIGs.

The department said the incident occurred in international waters 60 nautical miles north of the Cuban mainland and 78 nautical miles east-southeast of Key West.

The MIG fighters left the area of the shrimp boat when contacted by U.S. aircraft dispatched by the Air Defense Command in southern Florida," the Pentagon statement said.

"There was no engagement between the MIGs and the U.S. interceptors who witnessed some of the firings."

A spokesman said the term "contacted" meant visually contacted rather than any radio conversations or physical contact.

He said four MIGs were in the area but that apparently only two were involved in the rocket passes.

The shrimp boat was out of Fort Myers, Fla., and owned by the Seaford Packing Co. Its crew-

Columbiana Pupil Check To Be Made

COLUMBIANA — James Campbell was rehired to take the annual enumeration of pupils in the Columbiana Exempted Village School District when the Board of Education met Wednesday. He will enumerate all children from birth to 18 years of age. Campbell has been employed in this capacity for 10 years.

A three-year contract was awarded to the Peterson System, Inc. of Greenford, Pa., to furnish writing supervision for the school system. Under the program, a consultant is sent monthly to work with the teachers in the first six grades. All students in these grades receive training throughout the year. The plan has been in effect in the system for 15 years.

The board sent out specifications for the purchase of an additional 66-passenger school bus.

Miss Cathryn Eissenwein, high school English instructor, presented to the board the junior and senior high school English curriculum, a project which will be continued by all departments of the junior and senior high school at future meetings.

8,000 Troops To Leave Within Days

Soviet Withdrawal In Cuba Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. sources report some Soviet troops—perhaps as many as 8,000—may ship out of Cuba within days. And American officials hope some of the Soviet weapons will be leaving too.

The forecast of the early departure is partly based on the arrival in Cuban waters of four empty or lightly loaded Soviet

Leetonia Seeks Toll-less Calls

Council Acts For Phone Improvement

LEETONIA — Village Council Wednesday night voted to request the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. to conduct a Salem-Leetonia phone survey toward the objective of providing extended toll-free service between the two communities, similar to that between Salem and Winona.

A study was conducted by the utility several years ago, but company officials said then the number of calls between the two communities did not warrant free service.

Councilmen said last night Salem-Leetonia calls have increased greatly since then.

In other action, Council authorized the purchase of a police cruiser, from Shaffer Ford Co. of Salem on its low bid of $1,491, plus trade-in of the old vehicle. The new four-door sedan will be equipped with automatic transmission.

Council decided to readvertise for bids on a dump truck because those received were too high.

A letter from Salem Township trustees, requesting permission to continue using the village dump, was referred to the finance committee. The township has been using the dump at a cost of $60 a year.

Discussion was held on banning parking on the village's downtown streets from 2 to 6 a.m. in the winter to permit snow removal equipment to operate, but no action was taken.

Charles Wright, a representative of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., told Council the utility probably would request permission to dig up a portion of Walnut St. in the downtown section this summer to determine the size of a gas main there.

Clerk Dan Butch reported receipts from parking meters last month totaled $124.45.

Attending the meeting besides Butch were Mayor Ralph Kennedy, Village Solicitor Edward Greenmeyer and Councilmen Dan Cullinan, Elby Morris, Joe Weikart and Chester Whitacre.

Thieves Burglarize Physician's Home

The home of Dr. Demetrio Josefs, 206 E. State St., was broken into, ransacked, and robbed some time between 9 a.m. Wednesday and 8:30 a.m. today, according to a police report.

Discovery of the breaking and entry was made by the Salem City Hospital physician upon his return from Youngstown. Articles known to be taken include cuff links, tie clasp, and an electric razor.

Entrance was apparently gained by breaking a window near a back door of the house. The doctor also maintains a residence in Youngstown.

ships. One already has docked, sources said Wednesday night, and the three others are approaching the island.

The ship movements were disclosed barely a day after word circulated from congressional and diplomatic sources that the Soviet government had promised Monday to withdraw several thousand of its troops from Cuba by March 15.

The soldiers arrived there last fall with the offensive missiles and bombers which set off the Cuban crisis.

Experts estimated the four vessels were of a size that could handle as many as 8,000 men—almost half the 17,000 Soviet military personnel President Kennedy said he believed were still on the island.

But the potential removal of some of the troops could raise a new problem—that of the Soviet weapons on Fidel Castro's island bastion.

Administration officials do not regard the weapons as an offensive threat to the United States. If put in Cuban hands, however, they would give Castro a new capacity to provoke the United States and stir up more troubles.

Causing the most concern are 24 anti-aircraft missile bases capable of shooting down U.S. reconnaissance planes and relatively short-range antiship missiles.

These weapons are understood

WHATTA WINTER!

It will be a long time before this winter is forgotten. Here's an example. One day in February found Karen Briggs celebrating her election as Miss Arlington State College with a visit to the beach. The temperature in Fort Worth, Tex., that day was 74. The week wasn't out before the scene above was snapped at El Paso, Tex. Icy roads had traffic tangled all over the city.

Committee Alters Liquor Control Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Senate Liquor Committee has junked most of the controversial provisions of a bill to create a three-member liquor control commission to replace a four-member board.

The committee sent to the Senate floor a substitute bill which contains only the bare bones of the original proposal sponsored by the Republican Rhodes administration.

After the committee finished chopping, pruning and restoring the legal language of the present law, only these two major new features remained:

— A three-member commission instead of a four-member board.

Authority for appeals from commission decisions to the 10th District Court of Appeals (Franklin County) instead of Franklin County Common Pleas Court.

Stripped away are such controversial provisions as:

— Sole authority in the commission chairman to set penalty for violators of liquor laws and regulations.

— Authority to modify penalties at any time after assessment of a penalty.

— A provision that all commission members be attorneys. (The new bill sticks with the present provision that only the chairman must be a lawyer.)

— Authority for one member of the board to sit at a hearing examiner in any case involving a violation by a liquor permit holder.

Greenford Board To Ask Annex Bids

The Board of Education of Greenford School District, which will meet in regular session tonight, announced today it will receive sealed bids until March 21 for the erection of a new high school addition.

Superintendent of Schools Woodrow Bailey said that after the building contract is awarded, construction will begin April 1 if weather is satisfactory.

The board and administration anticipate use of the improvement by the fall term.

The major part of the new development, made possible by passage of a $165,000 bond issue last fall, will be an addition to the present building to accommodate more elementary and kindergarten children.

Other improvements include the expansion of the shop at the west end of the school converting a section of the gym for library use and landscaping.

Main items on the agenda for tonight's 8 o'clock meeting at the high school will be a discussion of the 1963 budget and the purchase of a bus.

Today was the deadline for submitting bids on a new bus to replace an 11-year-old van.

Snow, Cold Return After Brief Respite

A mass of arctic air swept into the Salem area Wednesday night, dropping temperatures to 11 below zero at 5 a.m. today at the city sewage disposal plant and depositing up to three inches of snow throughout the district. The mercury stood at one degree in downtown Salem at 7 a.m. today.

Colder temperatures are forecast for tonight.

Blustery winds piled the snow into impenetrable drifts on some rural roads, forcing two area schools, Greenford and United, to suspend classes. Other district schools remained open.

County and state highways were reported snow-covered and slippery. County road crews were called out last night to plow and clear highways and were out again this morning, John (Dick) Neill, highway department superintendent, reported.

City street department employees also were plowing and ashing last night and continued today.

Train Blocks Crossings

Many persons who already had gotten a late start this morning because of the weather were held up an additional half-hour by a freight train which blocked most of the crossings here. Some motorists approaching from the west were forced to detour over the Lisbon Road crossing.

Long lines of motor vehicles extended in both directions from each crossing. Many school children standing before the lowered gates were taken out of the cold into motorists' cars. A number of children weary of waiting crawled under the freight car couplings, and one boy was reported to have just slipped between two boxcars when the train jerked into motion at the Newgarden Ave. crossing.

All of Ohio Is Cold

The weather was the same all over Ohio. New snowfall amounted to four inches in Youngstown, while Akron received three and Columbus, Zanesville and Cleveland two.

Cold temperatures are expected to prevail in Ohio through Friday. Cloudiness will be variable, and there will be occasional snow flurries.

Afternoon temperatures today will be in the teens, while low

Re-Introduces Program Killed By Congress

Bill's Aim Is Better Income, Housing for Senior U.S. Citizens

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy put his battered plans for health care of the elderly into new wrappings today—part of a $10 billion, five-year plan aimed to better life, income and housing for senior Americans.

But it was bound to be old hat to Congress.

Besides the expected, and once-defeated, proposals for hospital insurance for the aged through Social Security, the President asked again for tax benefits for the elderly, part of his tax message last month.

The hospital insurance plan is expected to cost $5.6 billion for the first four years, the tax benefits $3.9 billion for the first five years.

Thus, in this special message on problems of the aging—the first ever by an American president—the two biggest money items and all but a fraction of the total money package are quite familiar.

But, in addition, the President called for:

More money for low interest loans to build rental housing for elderly persons of moderate income.

New emphasis on building group residences for the elderly where central dining and housekeeping services are available, some nursing care can be provided, but privacy is preserved.

More jobs for those past retirement age who want to work—including a directive to federal agencies to evaluate applicants and employees on the basis of ability, not age.

In all, the President recommended 3 ways to better the lot of senior citizens. But the heart of the program was hospital insurance. Concurrent with the President's message, a new administration bill was to be introduced in Congress.

It was basically the same as a bill stymied by Congress last year. And it did nothing to bend to previous objections of the American Medical Association to any plan financed solely by Social Security.

Nor is there room in the new bill for private or voluntary health insurance plans to get into the picture, except as additional insurance. This had been suggested to some degree by liberal Republicans who offered their own Social Security-financed health bill Tuesday.

Last year's administration bill—almost a twin to this year's—died in the hands of the House Ways and Means Committee. An attempt to move it through the Senate as an amendment to a welfare bill was defeated 52 to 48.

The basic change this year is an option in benefits for insured persons. The prime benefits still provide for up to 90 days of paid hospital care after the insured patient has paid the first $20 to $90.

But the new bill allows two options, providing the insured elderly person chooses the option immediately before his 65th birthday. Once made, the choice cannot be changed.

The insured may choose to get 180 days of paid care, after first

Defense Spending Peak Seems Near

WASHINGTON AP)—The peak in defense spending appears in sight.

But there are unknowns and uncertainties that could prevent any substantial downturn or even a leveling off in the years ahead.

Several key administration officials, including Budget Director Kermit Gordon, have been speaking optimistically of late. Pentagon authorities agree there is a basis for such optimism.

President Kennedy's proposed budget for the coming bookkeeping year contemplates record peacetime military spending of about $51 billion—more than half the total federal budget.

This is about $8 billion higher than the last military spending proposals submitted to Congress by President Dwight D. Eisenhower before he left the White House two years ago.

Much of the heavy increase grew from the Kennedy administration's urgent push to (1) build up the country's conventional land, sea and air forces and (2) speed construction of Polaris missile firing submarines and emplacement of quick-firing Minuteman inter-continental missiles in protected bases underground.

A good bit of this already has been done. And the new budget contains money to pay for the balance of such expensive programs as a 41-boat Polaris fleet and a force of new jet tanker planes to give B52 bombers greater range and endurance.

The number of U.S. fighting men has been boosted by nearly 200,000 above the Eisenhower strength, to nearly 2.7 million.

The Pentagon has taken long strides toward re-equipping the forces with the latest and most potent in artillery, tanks, battlefield missiles, jet fighter planes, helicopters and armored troop carriers.

A dangerous deficiency in high speed jet transports to fly troops to danger spots overseas is well on its way to being overcome.

The new budget provides $3.3 billion for buying new arms equipment for the Army. This is a peak for Army modernization and is likely to taper off in the future.

However, the Army is experimenting with entirely new concepts of air mobility which, if proved out, could give it a huge new air fleet. And this would come high. So far, as one official put it, the Army has "just put its toe in the water."

Secretary of Defense Robert S.

HERO ARRESTED—Pvt. William D. Watson, 41, Earle, Ark., a World War II Medal of Honor winner, was arrested in Marion, Ark., and returned to Ft. Sill, Okla., to face charges of desertion.

McNamara has embarked on a cost-saving drive, which he predicts will yield economies of $3 billion a year. Among other things he is trying to get defense contractors to cut down on the "gold plating"—the excessive refinements that go to boost the price but add little to the utility.

Awards Will Be Given At Columbiana Dinner

COLUMBIANA — Final arrangements have been made for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet to be held at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at South Side School.

A. G. Swanson banquet chairman, has announced that the speaker for the event will be E. H. Hartley, manager of Shopping Services for Halle Brothers Co. of Cleveland since 1955 speaking on the subject, "The Customer Is Always Right."

Hartley will use stories, letters and merchandise examples of some of the amusing things that happen in a large retail establishment.

Awards will be made to the "Man of the Year" a Lifetime of Service award, and a new award for Community Service, to be given to an organization, club, church, corporation or individual making an outstanding contribution to the community during the past year or period of years.

An added attraction at this year's banquet will be a display of products made by local industries located in the school hall.

Wayne Bauer will be installed as president during the program to follow the banquet along with Sam Lindsay, vice-president, and Ray McCormick treasurer. New and retiring directors will also be introduced with special music being featured.

Tickets are available from any director or at both banks.

MRS. ELMER COYLE of Cherry St. will be hostess to the Green Thumb Garden Club at her home at 1:30 p.m. Monday. Mrs. Wayne Hoover, program chairman, will review the book "Silent Spring." Clipper-Trippers will again hold a traveling bake sale Friday beginning at 1 p.m. Money collected from sale of baked items will be used to finance the senior trip in the spring.

PHILO CLASS of the Methodist Church will meet in the parlor for a birthday party at 8 tonight.

Mrs. Donald Perrin will have devotions.

Mrs. Wilson Lower will serve as chairman of the social committee along with Miss Mildred Mowen, Mrs. Tom Newsom and Mrs. James Moorehead.

COLUMBIANA BRANCH of Women's Auxiliary of Salem Hospital made 49 blue wrappers and 48 white wrappers when 14 members met at Grace Church Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Yarian returned recently from a two-month visit with their daughter and family, Rev. and Mrs. Edward Yost of Falls Church, Va. After serving as minister there for 14 years, Rev. Yost received a call to start a Lutheran mission church at Norfolk, Va., and the family moved there recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pate of Pensacola, Fla., are the parents of a son, Walter Pate, Jr. born Feb. 8. Mrs. Pate is the former Jane Ritchie. Her parents Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ritchie of 123 W. Friend St., returned home Saturday after a two-week visit in the Pate home.

Mrs. Leah Ritchie is confined to her home by illness.

Mrs. John Sittler is a patient at Salem City Hospital.

Kiss Tax Reform Goodby

More than a technicality is involved in the Democrats' decision to split tax-cutting and tax-revising in this session of Congress.

The decision means tax-revising is being thrown to the wolves in the hope of saving tax-cutting, which has friends among representatives and senators.

If the Kennedy administration would give them an easy out by promising to cut its spending, to save them from looking like fiscal ninnyes and incompetents if they vote for tax reduction, they would like nothing better than to cut revenue rates.

There is such a natural tie-up here between what the Kennedy administration wants to do to stimulate business and what politicians would like to do to stimulate voting support that eventually they will get together. It makes no sense for the New Frontiersmen to go on arguing that cuts in spending would be a direct offset to cuts in taxing.

THEY ARE disregarding the selective impact of budget-cutting.

They are ignoring the plain fact that Congress intends to make drastic cuts in foreign aid this year on its own initiative because popular opinion is demanding a wholesale shakeout of this costly program.

They are ignoring the possibility of subtracting a few billion dollars from defense spending with no impact whatever. If the United States merely thought twice on a few of its multi-billion-dollar military projects and said no instead of yes in 1963, it could give Congress all the saving it needs to justify a tax-cutting project.

As for tax reform, it is going to get lost in the shuffle. The tax structure is a jerry-built monstrosity that desperately needs reorganization to make it equitable.

But the idea of reforming it turned into a cold potato when it was revealed that some reforms would bring in more, instead of less, revenue.

IT LOST ITS political appeal then and there. The adage about the purpose of taxation being to get the most feathers off the goose with the least fuss was never more applicable.

No one is interested in remodeling the goose defeathering mechanism at a time when the geese are in an uproar. The big thing now is to pacify the geese.

Cloak And Dagger Business

When Allen Dulles, former head of Central Intelligence Agency and presumably the greatest living expert in its secret workings, declares it needs no congressional control because it has such a good record the way it is, he is begging the question.

Those who have been wondering about the CIA do not grant its one-time chief's bland assumption that the agency has been doing so well it stands in no need of congressional control. Neither do they grant his apparent belief in an article prepared for publication that the CIA must try to match the Soviet Union's excellence in spying and the only way it can do this is to remain independent of legislative interference.

THE CIA does not have critics so much as it has skeptics — people who question some of the assumptions underlying its operation. They had not had much to say in this regard until the CIA fiasco in its attempt to mastermind an invasion of Cuba in mid-April 1961.

In the rehashing of this absurdly mishandled project, everybody and everything have been combed over except the CIA. But scarcely had the last corpses of the fiasco been buried than President Kennedy was ordering an investigation of the agency's role in the invasion, and soon thereafter it was known in Washington that Mr. Dulles was going to retire.

He was succeeded in the early fall by John A. McCone, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

There had crystallized in the meantime a new public attitude about CIA operations. The country had realized for the first time the implications of a government agency that not only supplied information to other government agencies but was capable of becoming an instrument of military policy without congressional sanction or public knowledge.

MR. DULLES is begging the question when he assumes everybody has confidence in the CIA, therefore it needs no control by Congress.

There even are some skeptics in the United States who wonder why it should try to match the Russians in cloak-and-dagger business.

The Game's the Same

Whether Red China will have as much luck squeezing Yugoslavia out of the Internationale as France has had in squeezing Britain out of the Common Market is undetermined.

But there is a striking similarity in the two situations.

France has set itself against Britain, it will be recalled, because it doesn't think the British are sufficiently European in their present frame of mind. Many think it is aiming at British membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Thus it is aiming, in effect, at pro-Americans in British life and giving them a chance to think about their future—whether they might be happier in the long run if they veered toward Europe and away from the United States.

It is a move to create a political issue in the United Kingdom over British dependence on the United States or membership in a new European bloc dominated by France and including Germany, traditionally the enemy of both France and Britain.

In the same line of reasoning, Red China is inflaming what already is the hottest political issue in the Soviet Union.

Should the Russian government be dominated by men who want to get along with the West, or by men who want to get along with the East?

Is co-existence worth the loss of China's "friendship."

If Red Russia wants to get along with Red China, Mao Tse-tung has ruled, it will have to get rid of Yugoslavia.

If Britain wants to get along with France, Charles de Gaulle has ruled, it will have to get rid of the United States.

International pressure politics is played about the same on both sides of the street. Only the names change, not the game.

Speaking In Code

By Truman Twill

Everyone has his own list of expressions that do not really say what they sound like.

It would be a more difficult world if we had to say what we meant or say nothing at all—if we couldn't speak in code.

"It has been so nice to talk with you."

(Meaning, you should bubble over with gratitude because I have stood here like a gargoyle for the last 10 minutes while you bombarded me with a spatter of conversation.)

"Our speaker tonight needs no introduction."

(Meaning, this is one of those touchy situations in which the less said the better because your chairman has heard this joker perform before and what he needs is a police escort out of town.)

"You look swell, fella. Whatever you're doing certainly is agreeing with you."

(Meaning, we all gotta go sometime, fella, but what's the hurry?)

"I am going to put aside the speech I intended to make and talk to you from the heart."

(Meaning, I tried to get something down on paper so I wouldn't make a fool of myself when I got up here, but now that I'm up here making a fool of myself anyway there's no point in compounding the damage by reading this nonsense.)

"Here are some delightful people I want you to meet."

(Meaning, I hate to do this to you, old buddy, but the way you have latched on to me it's now or never and if I hunted all over the hall I couldn't find anyone who deserves you more than these retreads.)

"I move that this matter be referred to the proper committee for thorough study, with a recommendation to be submitted to the board in time for the next meeting."

(Meaning, no one seems to know what to do with this hot potato so let's see if we can roll it around on the shelf till it cools off.)

"I feel as if I had known you for years; I've heard your name mentioned so often."

(Meaning, if you know the difference between zipping up and zipping down, you will pick up this cue, fast, because people whose names get mentioned that often are being slandered on one side and down the other.)

"Old Faithful always has been a tower of strength and the old place won't seem right without him."

(Meaning, it won't seem right but it will seem better because — let's face it — this geezer erupted like clockwork and spent more time second-guessing others than he spent on his own job.)

"How recently have you been to Europe?"

(Meaning, I have been there but RECENTLY, man, and am about to beat you over the head with a resume of descriptions and opinions that will make you want to extend the Monroe Doctrine to individuals.)

"What an adorable baby!"

(Meaning, it is curious that a baby with such a good-looking mother and such an ugly father could inherit everything from its old man and nothing from its mother.)

"Get well soon."

(Meaning, but don't bust a gusset because, well, er, ah, it's like taking a vacation not to have you around. Don't be in any hurry to get up.)

Criticism of U.S. Cuba Policy May Bring Results

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Premier Khrushchev has thrown President Kennedy and his critics a crumb — a promised withdrawal of a "few thousand"

Soviet troops from Cuba. This is an unsatisfactory answer to the request of the United States that all Russian troops should leave the island and that the Soviets should give up their military base in Cuba. Leading Democrats as well as Republicans in Congress have voiced their dissatisfaction over the inadequacy of the Soviet action.

It is doubtful whether either the President or his critics will let the matter rest with a partial withdrawal of Soviet troops. For there is no way of knowing how many more Russian "civilians" or "technicians" will enter Cuba in the next few weeks to replace those who will have departed.

The Congressional criticism has had its effect, however, and will continue. It is unfortunate that Undersecretary of State George Ball and some of the administration spokesmen in Congress recently chose to regard any criticism as partisan and called for bipartisanship.

ACTUALLY, there has been bipartisanship among the critics. Much of what has been said in Congress in disapproval of the Cuban policy has come from Democrats. A few days ago, Sen. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of a subcommittee on military affairs, expressed the opinion that the criticism had been helpful and that the investigation of our Cuban policy undertaken by his subcommittee "will give strength to the President—and Khrushchev will realize it."

After the announcement of the coming withdrawal of a portion of the Soviet army in Cuba, Mr. Stennis, in a statement, said: "Even though this is an encouraging step, it is only one step. Our policy must be an insistence that they all be withdrawn. This is the only thing that will really remove the menace."

Other senators in both parties—Russell, D-Ba., Lausche, D-Ohio, Smathers, D-Fla., Mansfield, D-Mont., Dirksen, R-Ill. Aiken R

Vt., and Goldwater, R-Ariz., echoed the same sentiment.

There are currently, of course, some partisans among the critics. These Republicans seem to have learned a lesson from the Democrats, who managed to make Cuba an issue in the 1960 presidential campaign.

Those criticisms may have swung enough votes to be a factor in the close race that Mr. Kennedy won over Mr. Nixon.

THE DEMOCRATIC presidential nominee's words, therefore, are being reread by some of the Republicans as a lesson in how to succeed in campaigning without really trying to be nonpartisan. Mr. Kennedy, for example, had this to say in a speech at Johnstown, Pa., on Oct. 15, 1960:

"For the transformation of Cuba into a Community base of operations a few minutes from our coast — by jet plane, missile, or submarine — is an incredibly dangerous development to have been permitted by our Republican policymakers. . . .

"This wouldn't have happened under Franklin Roosevelt, who warned the Nazis in 1940 to stay out of our hemisphere; this wouldn't have happened under Harry Truman, who warned the Communists in 1947 to stay out of Greece and Turkey."

In another speech, the Democratic candidate included Cuba in six key areas in the world in which he charged that the administration was reacting too late."

HE REPEATEDLY declared that American prestige was very low. There were speeches about the alleged "missile gap," and Mr. Kennedy often referred to surveys which, he said, showed that a majority of the people in several countries believed the Soviet Union was "ahead of us militarily and scientifically."

Even the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, whose chairman was Sen. Fulbright, D-Ark., issued a report on June 28, 1960, criticizing President Eisenhower for having used the U2 surveillance planes. The committee claimed it didn't have all the information it needed, but then said anyhow:

"The development, publication, examination and discussion of information such as this, it seems to the committee, is essential to the democratic process. When carried on responsibly, it can only produce beneficial results, even at critical moments in our foreign affairs."

"Only through a public airing of the facts can a representative government be held to proper account and its mistakes, if any, identified and corrected."

MANY REPUBLICANS who in recent weeks have re-examined that paragraph in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee report took it to heart and tried to "air the facts" so as to "produce beneficial results."

Sen. Fulbright nevertheless has just denounced the Republicans as partisan. The truth is that in the Democratic party several of the critics have been more severe in their castigation of the Kennedy administration's foreign policy than the Republicans have been.

Maybe if the bipartisan critics keep up their "airing of the facts," they will persuade Premier Khrushchev that American public opinion isn't satisfied with the continuance of a Soviet military base in Cuba and is demanding that it be abolished without further delay.

"MUST You Make So Much Noise With That Mop?"

Labor on Defensive

By VICTOR RIESEL

Some of President Kennedy's close advisers, including several labor leaders, were gathered around him for a half hour in the White House

Fish Room the other day. All of them were deeply worried. Unemployment is mounting. Someone pointed out that joblessness has hit the U. S. harder than any other industrial nation except Canada.

Then someone said cut taxes now, cut them heavily or not at all.

"That's good advice," said the President, "but how do I get around Wilbur Mills in Congress?"

The President's reference was to the congressman from Arkansas who heads the all-powerful House Ways and Means Committee, now considering the tax cut proposal.

Mr. Mills looks upon a tax cut like a cotton ball does on a boll weevil.

ONE ADVISER then said: "Mr. President, we can only tell you what we think is right. You must handle the political end of it. That's your job."

"That's quite a job," the President said. "Quite a job."

Among those in the Fish Room that morning from whom the President got pledges of support in this "job," were union chiefs Walter Reuther of auto; Dave McDonald of steel; and Joe Keenan of the electrical workers.

These men and the rest of labor's high command now meeting in Bal Harbour, Fla., want such heavy tax cuts — but they believe President Kennedy's plans are "insufficient."

They have, instead, called for a "substantial and immediate cut solely in the first-bracket (lowest) rate, retroactive to the beginning of this year."

Ordinarily support from such influential labor chiefs as Walter Reuther would be formidable. But now labor's high command has some mighty headaches of its own — and needs support itself.

SELDOM HAS the AFL-CIO Executive Council met in a mid-winter strategy session in so hostile a national atmosphere.

Some of this public antagonism is due to the recent rail, waterfront and transit strikes. But much of the criticism springs from the almost unbelievable newspaper strikes.

They have influenced opinion makers who long have been friends of the labor movement.

As a result there will not be the usual outcry across the land against the hurricane of labor-curbing bills which have been introduced by such congressional leaders as Senators McClellan and Goldwater.

This is what's worrying the labor chiefs at their high command conference. They are aware of what the public generally overlooks—the fact that many of these bills have big blocs of congressional sponsors who are powers on the committee: two which President Kennedy will have to come for support of his tax and other programs.

THERE CERTAINLY will be an effort to bargain with the President's congressional liaison man—Larry O'Brien, one of the inner "ins" of the White House.

There may not be any new labor laws. But then there may not be any new tax law either.

Sen. McClellan certainly will push hard for his two bills. One of them calls for making transport unions subject to anti-trust laws. This means that these unions, on the docks, over the road, on the rails and in the air can be heavily fined if they strike, or picket, or boycott or even issue an unfair list in this field.

His other bill would give the secretary of defense the power to appoint a board for compulsory arbitration of disputes in defense facilities.

OTHER CONGRESSMEN would place all unions under the anti-trust laws, or under a system of compulsory arbitration; prohibit union shop agreements, or use of union funds for anything but collective bargaining.

And these are but a few of such bills — all stern enough to stir labor into concentrating its energies right through 1964 on this single front. Labor may find itself so busy defending its own lines it will not have much to spare for the President's battles.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

thinking "this one will be different." But it never is. I always end up feeling degraded because most men think a divorcee will say yes to anything — as payment for a dinner or some dull conversation.

So please tell the widow who signed herself "Alone" that divorcees are alone, too, but that they have a myriad of added problems which widows don't have.—TREADMILL.

Dear Treadmill: Your letter has some merit but not every widow has a fat insurance policy, money in the bank and a paid-for home. And not every divorcee is living in a shabby apartment. Sometimes it's the alimony busted husbands who wind up in a rented room with naked light bulbs.

One thing is certain, however — the widow didn't have a choice.

How To Spot Phony

Dear Ann: My problem is an older man, I'm 16 and Brad is 29. His parents think I'm 20 and my parents think he is 22. He's madly in love with me but I'm not in love with him. The trouble is I don't have the heart to break up with him.

Brad knows how I feel but he doesn't care. He says love will come later. He has spent more than $200 on me in the last two months and his parents have bought me gifts, too.

They think I'm the smartest and loveliest girl he has ever gone with. He wants to marry me next year when I graduate from high school.

Please don't think Brad is going with me for sex. I am very moral. Tell me what to do.—MISS NEWARK.

Dear Miss Newark: People often ask me how I spot phony letters. Well, here is how I spotted yours.

No parent can possibly think a 20-year-old who is still in high school is "the smartest girl he ever went with." Now why don't you go do your homework?

Domineering Mate

Dear Ann: I get up at 6 a.m. five days a week to fix my husband a big breakfast.

On Saturdays and Sundays he doesn't go to work but he gets up just the same because he can't sleep. He expects me to get up on those days and get him the same big breakfast.

I do all my own work and don't have the energy some women have. I'd enjoy sleeping a few extra hours but he insists it's my duty to get up and make him breakfast whether he goes to work or not.

He doesn't care for church, sports or visiting friends. He spends most of his weekend in bed reading, watching TV and just sleeping. I can't go back to bed during the day because I have too much work.

Do I have the right to sleep until 8 a.m. on the days my husband doesn't have to go to work? —TRUDY.

Dear Trudy: Your husband's punishing behavior is a symptom of a deeper problem. You two need the help of a marriage counselor or a clergyman. A man who really cares about his wife would not make such unreasonable demands. He'd be delighted to let her sleep a few extra hours.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Victor Borge To Be On TV Special Sunday

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Some Victor Borge fans wish he'd stop fooling around with long-hair music and stick to the comedy. Some Borge fans deplore sadly that such a talented musician, such a fine pianist, wastes all that time on funny stuff.

Borge, a lively man who has drawn a fine bead on the mass

American audience, doesn't mind the wails a bit. For one thing, he realizes that both groups like to watch him. And he also realizes that the largest group of all—curious, special blend of good music and bright comedy is just great.

"You can't satisfy everybody," he shrugs. "And I have to do what I feel happy and comfortable doing."

Borge, who has been through the television mill and had made a number of specials over the year, will be seen in one of his infrequent specials on Sunday night on ABC.

Borge's Sunday special is certainly unique. It was taped in Philharmonic Hall of Lincoln Center. It enlists the talents of clown Marcel Marceau and classical pianist Leonid Hambro.

Borge's personal recipe for balancing himself delicately and successfully between two far-apart stools without danger of crashing to disaster is logic.

"Everything must be logical," Borge explained. "It is not difficult to get laughs. There are many ways to do this, starting with making funny faces. But you can't keep that up forever."

"You have to be comfortable, too, and I'm not comfortable unless there's logic in it. Some people say that the business where I fall off the piano bench at the end of a run is ridiculous. I say it's not ridiculous—I actually did lose my balance and fall off the bench when I was practicing."

Western Allies Split On New Berlin Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Western allies are reported split on pursuing a new round of exploratory talks with the Soviet Union on Berlin.

While the United States takes the view that Soviet overtures for a fresh start should not be rebuffed, high diplomatic informants said Wednesday night, France remains opposed to another session with the Soviets. Britain and West Germany, the sources said, are supporting the U.S. position.

Talks between the United States and the Soviet Union on the divided German city have been stalled since last spring. Earlier this month, the Soviets proposed a new attempt be made to try to find a solution to the Berlin problem. The United States immediately consulted with its three allies.

The consultations are still going on in Washington with Llewellyn Thompson, the State Department's ambassador at large, presiding.

Father of Nine Gets Engineering Degree

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert R. Fontaine, 34, father of nine who found time to attend night classes over a 12 year period, receives a degree in electrical engineering tonight from George Washington University.

How does a man with nine children concentrate on his homework?

"It's really no problem," Fontaine said. "You merely study in the daytime on weekends after sending them all out to play, or after 9 o'clock at night when they're all in bed."

Sebring Suspect Pleads Innocent In Store Burglary

SEBRING — Dale Court, 32, of 116 S. 15th St., charged with breaking and entering the South Side Market early Tuesday and stealing $161, pleaded not guilty today at a hearing before Mahoning County Judge John A. Reddy and was bound over to the grand jury under $1,500 bond.

Another man arrested in connection with the crime, Ronald Henderson, 19, of 126 S. 15th St., will receive a hearing in mayor's court Feb. 26 on a charge of receiving and concealing stolen property.

Henderson was taken into custody Wednesday morning at his home. Police said he had $55 of the stolen money in his possession. The money was returned to the market owner.

When Sen. Fred L. Hoffman, R-Hamilton, questioned the advisability of permitting appeals to go directly to the appellate court, Sen. Tennyson Guyer, R-Hancock, said he had discussed changes in the measures with Gov. James A. Rhodes and that the governor asked that the new appeals procedure remain unchanged.

"The governor feels," Guyer told the committee, "that if anything serious is wrong with the appellate procedure, it can be corrected in the House."

The main purpose in changing the four-member bipartisan board—two Republicans and two Democrats—to a three-member commission is to avoid deadlocks over penalties which have the effect of permitting violators to escape punishment.

to be still completely within Soviet control.

Administration officials have reported that among the Soviet military personnel on the island are four heavily armed combat battalions of 5,000 men.

If and when the combat units go the expectation is that they will take many, perhaps all, of their arms with them. But no one here rules out the possibility that much of this armament may be added to the arms already supplied to Castro's forces.

In the Senate the Armed Services Committee will ask defense officials for a detailed report on the Cuban situation.

Dr. Manuel de Varona, president of the Cuban Senate from 1950 to 1952 told a House Inter-American Affairs subcommittee Wednesday that there are definitely more than 17,000 Soviet troops in Cuba, perhaps up to 30,000.

Calling for a U.S. invasion "to restore peace to the hemisphere," De Varona said "well informed sources in Vienna" report the Soviets have established secret military bases in the jungles of northwest Brazil and in the mountains of Paraguay.

A spokesman for the Brazilian foreign office said in Rio de Janeiro that De Varona's report was absolutely ridiculous.

Beaver Local PTA Will Meet Monday

The Beaver Local Parent-Teacher Association will hold its monthly meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the school. Mrs. Veronica Wolski, president, will be in charge.

Lee Kirland, high school principal, and Ernest Skidmore, guidance counselor, will lead the discussion. An appeal has been made by Mrs. Wolski of all organizations within the Beaver Local area to send representatives to this meeting.

Program for the evening will also include selections presented by the junior band under the direction of Robert Sprague, band director. Films will also be screened by Robert Beatty, architect, of Schools-Here and Abroad.

The Beaver Local Mothers Club will have charge of the social hour.

The executive committee will hold a short special meeting at 7 p.m. in the school library.

paying 2½ days himself. Or he may choose to get 5 days of paid care without paying for any part of it. If he makes neither choice, he gets the basic 90-day provision of the bill.

As in the earlier bill, the cost of the medical care would be borne largely by a boost in Social Security taxes. It would mean a maximum of $13 a year for each employee, and a like sum for his employer. It amounts to one-fourth of 1 per cent for the first $5,200 of the employee's income.

There are now, the President said, 17.5 million Americans aged 65 or older—and that number will swell to 25 million by 1980.

The tax proposals, spelled out by the President in an earlier message, include such benefits for the elderly as:

A $300 tax credit for everyone over age 5.

Unlimited deductions for medical and drug expenses.

The generally lower tax rates which would apply to all taxpayers if the tax program is adopted.

Lausche, Morse Feud Over Dock Strike Mediation

WASHINGTON (AP) Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., unhappy over remarks made by Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, says the Ohio senator has shown "gross ignorance of the whole mediation process."

Morse, in a Senate speech Wednesday, charged Lausche with making an insulting speech implying that Morse was a biased mediator in the settlement of the docks strike.

Lausche quickly replied that he had meant no aspersion on the Oregon senator's integrity but only contended that "we are all burdened with our predispositions." Morse was chairman of a mediation group appointed by President Kennedy which arranged the settlement of the recent docks strike.

Lausche had told the Senate Tuesday that Morse had ideologies and predispositions which "made it impossible for him to be what one might call an impartial arbitrator."

Lausche also contended that nothing was done about the issue of featherbedding by the striking dockworkers.

Morse told the Senate: "I challenge him to go to the litigants (the dockworkers and shipowners) and find out if they feel they had fair treatment."

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: when you plan to use egg whites for a special dish here is a suggestion to make use of the egg yolks:

Have a small pan of boiling water on a hot burner. The water must be at a rolling boil to keep the yolk from sticking. As you separate the eggs, drop the egg yolk into this boiling water, cover and boil until the yolks are at the hard boil stage.

Dip the yolks from the water and let cool in a dish and store in your refrigerator. When it comes time to make sandwiches, mix mustard, salt and pepper and a dab of mayonnaise with the mashed egg yolks. This makes a he-man lunch box or a thinner spread for dainty lady fingers at tea. (Just remove the crusts.)

MRS. JODY SMITH.

DEAR HELOISE: When the glaze wears off my chintz . . . I restore it by dipping it into a clear solution of starch to which a small amount of paraffin or candle wax has been added, and stir the mixture thoroughly while it is boiling hot!

For a pair of curtains I use a piece of wax about the size of a walnut. I iron on the right side.

Note: be certain to get the desired stiffness, test the starch first on a tieback for the proper stiffness.

ALM.

DEAR HELOISE: I am a working mother. Therefore my time is valuable and limited. When I am sewing I must take all of the short cuts I can.

When making a dress or skirt or just making some alterations on a garment, instead of basting in seams or a hem, or even shortening men's and boy's trousers, I use ordinary hair clips! I have the broad flat kind and they are just wonderful for clipping all the way along the side seams and are just fabulous for holding hems in dresses!

All one has to do is simply measure the hem . . . slide on the hair clip and then when stitching in place whether by machine or by hand, you just slide the clip off as you go along!

READER.

DEAR HELOISE: My husband smokes in bed . . . He recently burned some holes in the top of a beautiful, brand new, dark blue taffeta bedspread. I am exasperated.

I know they cannot be patched or mended without leaving a pucker that will show. And you know this type of bedspread has a white cotton batting filler . . . which shows through when a hole occurs.

Now what can I do?

BONNIE S.

DEAR BONNIE: The same thing happened in our house! Here's what I did: I took a felt marker—to match my blue bedspread. These can be bought at any time and most drug stores. I gently touched the tiny holes where the white cotton showed through. The marker dyed the white cotton. Who knows that I have holes?

And you were right about tacking and sewing up those holes. It looks horrible.

Don't use too much dye. You don't want the dye to get all over the spread and leave a ring. You might prefer to use a toothpick with a dab of cotton on the end and some ink as a substitute for the above method. HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I put heavy-duty foil in the bottom of our garbage can. This prevents rust. Each day as I empty the garbage I wash the piece of foil and return it to the bottom of the can. Sure beats scrubbing the can.

MARY.

Dear Heloise: The first time I washed my washable draw-drapes I was disappointed in the results. They lost their stiffness at the top and the pleats drooped. I had better luck the second time and here's how I did it:

After washing them I rolled them in a big bath towel and let them sit for about 10 minutes. I removed them from the towel and rehung them. Now here is what does the trick. . . .

Draw the drapes closed. Pinch pleat together with your fingers and slip rust proof bobby pin over the top of each pleat.

Use rubber-tipped bobby pins to prevent any damage to the fabric and make sure there is no rust on the pins as this could mark the drapes.

While the drapes are still damp, spray them lightly and evenly with a spray starch starting at the top. When you have sprayed the complete drape . . . spray across the top again! During the time the drapes are drying, run your hand down the edges of the drapes holding them between your thumb and forefinger . . . exerting slight pressure. This prevents puckering.

When the drapes are completely dry remove the bobby pins, spread them out, and the pleats of your drapes are as good as new!

SANDY.

DEAR HELOISE: I use cream of tartar on a dampened washcloth to clean my porcelain surfaces.

Sometimes when I am out of the cream of tartar I use hydrogen peroxide. This removes rust from the surfaces and I find that it whitens the porcelain.

L.T.F.

I tried both the cream of tartar and the peroxide. It did not seem to do any damage. Do let us know if this whitens your household gadgets.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: One of your readers sent in a way to crush cookies by stepping on them. May I submit "Georgia's" method of making her stuffing?

We like dry bread stuffing so I keep a paper bag in my bread drawer. I drop all of our leftover bread into this bag, which is kept open so the bread will dry out.

Put the dry bread in a brown paper bag, then in a plastic bag. Put on flat shoes, then lay both bags on the floor (with the bread in it) and put left foot on the crumbs inside. Then . . . stomp with the right foot!

Dump into a large bowl, run your hand through the bread crumbs, and take out any large pieces. Put them back into the bag with more bread until you have enough bread crumbs to make your stuffing.

GEORGIA KASUM.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Medicare Program Causing Little Stir In Washington

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's medical care program, due to go to Congress today, won't relieve the general dreariness which has settled over Washington like an umbrella. It will just add to it.

It will be just one more program wrapped up by Kennedy and handed to Congress, with the chance dim, indeed, for anything coming of it. That's about par for the course so far in 1963.

January and February this year have been the two dullest opening months of any year in a long time, even though Kennedy's Democrats outnumber the Republicans as they did in 1962 and 1961 and for years before that.

At least the President can claim credit for prophecy when, despite the size of his party's margin, he said last Dec. 17 all his controversial proposals would be "closely contested."

Nothing better illustrates the stalemate in the Capital and the Capitol than what's happening in the Senate. It has done practically nothing and shows no signs of doing anything any time soon.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield Wednesday complained bitterly to his fellow-senators for "demeaning ourselves" by wasting six weeks squabbling instead of legislating.

The early weeks were consumed in a fruitless fight between the out-numbered liberals of both parties and the Southern Democrats, with the former trying to change the rules to make it easier to shut off a Southern filibuster. This has been tried so many times, and failed so often with the outcome always predictable, that it has become a kind of traditional tribal dance. That fight's finished for 1963.

Now the senators have themselves boxed in on another dispute, this time about procedure and committee assignments. Sen. Mansfield will have to be a very powerful medicine man to get his Senate braves on the legislative path.

Kennedy has so far sent two major programs to Congress, one a gigantic combination calling for tax cuts and tax reforms, all in one package, and the other proposing federal aid to education practically clear across the board. At first Kennedy said his tax program was needed to stimulate consumer buying and business investment. Then, as if having second thoughts, he said it was also needed to prevent a recession.

This program, as was expected, has been hit from all directions by special interest groups. The whole business became more complicated, and therefore looked more unworkable, by the marriage of cuts and revisions.

A sort of indifference has enveloped Kennedy's huge education program from the start. It's a 2-point aid proposal for the nation's schools from grammar grades up through graduate school and even private colleges and universities.

Last year Kennedy's medical care program—for which he did almost no public fighting except for one off-the-cuff broadcast from Madison Square Garden—landed in the soup.

There's no reason the one going to Congress won't land in the same moist grave, along with the education program, since Kennedy before Congress even came back this year expressed skepticism about both their chances.

While Congress has been blocking traffic, there have been no police sirens from the White House, either.

Youth Committed to Lima State Hospital

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The youth charged in a crime that raised a storm of statewide public indignation last June is being committed to Lima State Hospital.

Judge James J. Mayer declared Jerrell Ray Howell, 19, insane and unfit to stand trial in the slayings of two small girls. His ruling came after a sanity hearing Wednesday with testimony from two psychiatrists. Dr. Walter A. Massie of Mansfield and Dr. Irwin N. Perr of Cleveland.

Howell, if and when declared sane, must return to stand trial for first-degree murder. He is accused of the kicking-beating deaths of the two girls, ages 7 and 9, whose bodies were found in a creek here.

The crime aroused controversy because the youth was at liberty despite a record of sex molestings of children.

Senator Seeks Work Rights for Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, has asked Congress to take immediate action to bring migrant farm workers and their children into the 20th century.

Young, in a Senate speech Wednesday, urged legislation to lift migrant farm workers out of "a system of virtual peonage in our society."

The senator said nearly two million men, women and children who work as migrant farm laborers "live in a twilight world of hunger, poverty and lack of opportunity."

Young said factory workers average nearly $90 a week in wages and that the migrant workers' "pitiful $25 a week is in shabby contrast."

He said, "The real crime is what such an existence does to the children of these hapless people. If they survive their early childhood, they are virtually doomed to repeating the dismal life of their parents."

Cincinnati Eyes 6th Straight Loop Title Tonight

Bearcats Face North Texas

Notre Dame Meets 10th Ranked NYU

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Cincinnati Bearcats, with one string ended, will try to keep another, more important streak going tonight against North Texas State.

The Bearcats' 37-game winning string came to an abrupt, painful halt in Wichita Saturday but their quest of an unprecedented third straight NCAA title is still very, very active.

They could take a major step in that quest by beating North Texas tonight, which would secure Cincinnati its sixth straight Missouri Valley Conference berth in the NCAA regionals, first step on the long road to the championships.

The Bearcats, still ranked first in the nation, take a 19-1 mark into the game while North Texas, at 10-11, is enjoying its best season since joining the league in 1957. Cincinnati won a previous meeting 75-58 at North Texas earlier this season.

Another important game sends Notre Dame against 10th ranked New York University, already named for an NCAA open berth, at Madison Square Garden. NYU has won nine in a row and is 13-2 over-all.

Penn State, Pitt Lose
Penn State and Pittsburgh, vying for an NCAA spot, each came a-cropper Wednesday night as they headed into a showdown at Pittsburgh Saturday. Temple, now 14-6, upset Pitt 77-71 at Philadelphia while West Virginia held off a Penn State rally 83-82 on the Nittany Lions' home grounds.

Springfield upset Holy Cross 74-72 at Worcester, Mass., the Crusaders' fourth straight loss after winning 10 straight, homestanding Providence, already entered in the NIT, just held off visiting Assumption 66-67. Davidson blasted Wake Forest 90-75 at Charlotte, and Nick Werkman, the nation's leading major college scorer, scored 32 points in Seton Hall's 92-61 victory over St. Peter's.

Detroit Edges Canisius
In some of the other major games, Detroit edged Canisius 55-54. Marquette nipped Louisville 77-76. North Carolina beat Virginia 85-73. Rutgers defeated Colgate 93-82. LaSalle turned back Duquesne 73-69. Georgetown blasted Lafayette 89-58 and New Hampshire edged Vermont 97-94 in overtime.

Cage Benefit Set Tonight at Beaver Local

A professional basketball team will oppose a select group of Columbiana County coaches and teachers tonight at 8 at Beaver Local High School gym.

The Harlem Flying Astronauts will play faculty members from Beaver Local, East Liverpool, Leetonia, Lisbon and Wellsville as the main feature of the basketball benefit sponsored by the Beaver Local Athletic Association. Preceding the main event the Beaver Local Public School basketball team will meet the Westgate School eighth graders from East Liverpool at 7 p.m.

Faculty from the five schools will wear their school colors. Proceeds will be used to aid athletes participating in sports events away from home and other association activities.

Local participants are Gary Pike of Lisbon; Len Batcha and Paul Frank of Leetonia; Jack O'Rourke, Floyd Fuarez, Thomas McCall, John Pape, Lloyd Stockdale, Frank Wilson and Calvin Graber of Beaver Local; Bevo Francis, Jack McDevitt and Chuck McMillan of Wellsville; and Frank Chan, Jim Harris and Jim Potts, East Liverpool.

The Astronauts will appear in a darkened preview game with luminous clothing and basketballs. Larry Patton, national champion baton twirler from Mercer, Pa., will give a half-time performance.

Jacobites Post 3-0 Win In Volleyball

Franklin Market and Jacobites posted 3-0 wins, while the Post Office chalked up a 2-1 decision in the Volleyball League at the Memorial Building Wednesday.

Jacobites swept to 15-12, 15-9 and 15-1 decisions over PA's, while Franklin Market chalked up 15-13, 15-2 and 15-7 victories over Electric Furnace Engineering. The Post Office lost the second game 15-10, but won the other two 15-10 and 15-10.

Terry Inks New York Contract

Willie Mays Signs Giants' '63 Pact For $100,000

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
"This Willie Mays, he does everything."

And gets rewarded accordingly. San Francisco Manager Al Darc paid the compliment and the National League champion Giants will be paying Mays approximately $100,000 for the 1963 season, a plateau reached before by only Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio and Stan Musial.

Mays agreed to terms Wednesday for an estimated increase of $10,000 following a season in which he led the National League in homers with 49 and drove in 141 runs while batting .304.

While Mays stepped into the Giants' fold, World Series opponent Ralph Terry—the pitching hero who shut out San Francisco 1-0 in the deciding game of the Series—agreed to terms with the world champion New York Yankees.

The 27-year-old right-hander posted a 23-12 record last season and received a $12,000 raise to $35,000.

Besides Terry, a host of other pitchers signed, including Roger Craig of the New York Mets, Ray Herbert and Gary Peters of the Chicago White Sox, Carl Willey of Milwaukee, Ernie Broglio and Bobby Shantz of St. Louis, Bob Allen and Wilfred (Sonny) Siebert of Cleveland and Steve Dalkowski of Baltimore.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS L. LIDE

Recognition has been given to six record fish caught during 1962 by the Ohio Record Fish Committee of the Outdoor Writers of Ohio, Inc.

The announcement was made Friday by Allan W. Eckert of Dayton, the chairman, at the annual OWO convention in Columbus. Other members of the committee are Homer Circle of Rogers, Ark.; Harold Green of Sandusky; Lowell Woorich of Port Clinton, and J. Riley Johnson of Dayton.

The list of new record fish follows, showing the size, place where caught, date and angler in that order:
Largemouth bass 9 pound, 2 ounces, 24 inches long, 19-inch girth Leavittsburg Lake April 30 Bill Ferenci, Wintersville.

Channel catfish 14 pounds, 3 ounces, 28½ inches long 22-inch girth Portage River near Port Clinton, June 10, Gerald Palmer Leipsic.

Flathead catfish 65 pounds, 45 inches long Clendening Lake, May 25, Elmer Afolter, Uhrichsville.

Black crappie 3 pounds, 16 inches long 12-inch girth, farm pond near Arcanum, June 7 Ralph L. Pound Arcanum.

White crappie, 2 pounds, 12 ounces 17 inches long, Englewood Dam Reservoir May 13 Frank B. Kyle Sr., Union.

Muskellunge, 31 pounds, 44 inches long 19½-inch girth Deer Creek Reservoir May 12, John Charley, Akron. This record fish was the top one of 19 that entitled the anglers to membership in the Huskie Muskie Club, sponsored by the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

In bowfishing, Ernest Papay of South Amhurst, shot a 34-pound, 38½-inch carp May 20 in Bardshar Marsh near Huron, which has been accepted as a record.

Secret To Pole Vault Record Is Practice, Says Fin Nikula

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The secret in setting world pole vault records, Pentti Nikula confided today, is "practice."

"Every day," said Nikula through an interpreter, "I practice an hour. Twice a week my coach measures how high I have gone. Then he urges me to go higher."

Nikula, 23, a bank clerk from Halikko, Finland, soared an almost unbelievable 16 feet, 8½ inches three weeks ago in a meet in Pajulahti, Finland—more than five inches higher than anyone ever had made.

Nikula arrived Wednesday night with his coach, Valto Olenius for the National AAU championships in Madison Square Garden Saturday, plus the Cleveland Knights of Columbus meet and the Chicago Daily News relays.

"My main ambition," he said, "is to vault 17 feet. Whether I will break the record I don't know. Perhaps if I am feeling good I will. But I hope to do at least 16-6."

Nikula, 154 pounds and on the slight side, said he spends almost 10 hours a day working in the bank. Until three years ago, he merely dabbled in the pole vault.

Toledo Clips Kent State

Ties For MAC Lead With Bowling Green

By The Associated Press
Now it's Toledo's turn to share first place in the topsy-turvy Mid-American Conference.

The Rockets turned back Kent State 70-62 Wednesday night to tie Bowling Green for the top spot with 7-3 records. Right behind these two is Miami, which has completed its league season with an 8-4 mark.

Toledo's Ray Wolford was the big gun with 22 points and 21 rebounds, a single-game record for the Rockets. Wolford flipped in eight field goals to run his season's total to 180, also a school record. Dennis Klug and Dan Norris scored 21 apiece for the Golden Flashes in a losing effort.

Toledo and Bowling Green have two games remaining, both against Western Michigan and Marshall.

Elsewhere, Ohio University scored an easy 81-54 victory over Morehead (Ky.). The Bobcats, paced by Stacy Bunton's 15 points, led by 10 at halftime and were never challenged again. Morehead, the Ohio Valley Conference leader, shot a cold 30 per cent while the Bobcats hit 41 per cent.

In other games, Central State nipped Steubenville 74-72 on the Barons' floor; Defiance outlasted Adrian (Mich.) 99-91; Findlay walloped Malone 86-55; Bob Rabe's jump shot with 11 seconds left gave Bluffton a 71-69 M-d - Ohio Conference victory over Wilmington; John Carroll trounced Allegheny 85-66, and Northern Illinois pounded visiting Ohio Northern 109-77.

The Bluffton triumph kept the losing Quakers from tying Defiance for first place in the MOC.

Haytoher Leads ABC All-Events With 1,885 Pins

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Bernie Haytcher of Ashtabula, Ohio, surprised no one at the American Bowling Congress Tournament by moving into first place in the regular all-events division Wednesday with a 1,885.

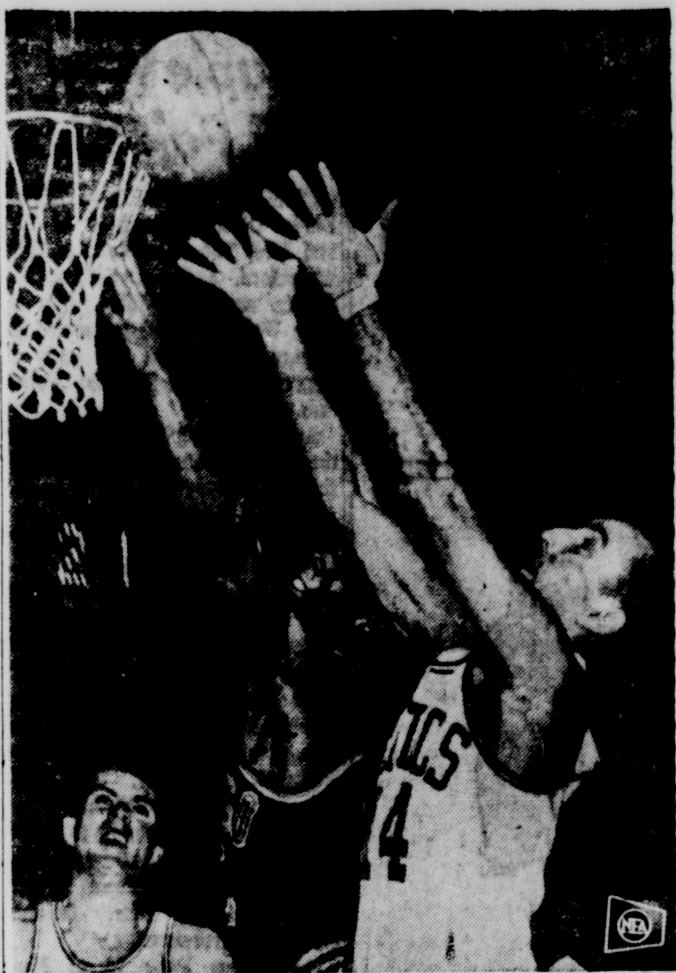

Haytcher made the path smooth by rolling a three-game 709 Tuesday as a member of the A&A Coin team of Ashtabula.

A&A Coin was fifth in the regular five-man team division with 2,876, while Compagna Concrete of Lorain, Ohio, was in eighth place in that division with 2,857.

In third place in the regular all-events division was Dick Ward of Carey, Ohio, with 1,860, while James Sandys of Lorain was fourth with 1,854 and Pete Kallas of Lorain seventh with 1,828.

In the regular singles division, Ward was eighth with 648.

In the regular doubles division, the team of Otto Krueger and Jerry Quinlan of Findlay, Ohio, was in first place with 1,250, and the team of Kallas and Baldo Campana of Lorain was tied for fifth with one other team with 1,217.

AFTER THE BALL—Bob Cousy, right, of the Boston Celtics and the Chicago Zephyrs' Si Green leap for a rebound at Madison Square Garden as Celtics' Tom Heinsohn looks on.

Mark My Word

By MARK W. MILLER

How far can Salem go on the tournament trail?

It's obvious every loyal Salemite would "love those Quakers" to go all the way to the finals scheduled at Columbus March 29-30.

A few pessimists don't think Salem will get by their first encounter with Struthers Feb. 28.

A story of Tri-County basketball team selection appears today on Page 8.

We are among the majority which believe that the Quakers have enough "stuff" to battle Warren Harding for the district championship.

WITH THE ENTHUSIASM prevailing you can rest assured that a spirited Salem crowd will follow the team all the way.

Of the 30 schools competing in the Class AA Sectionals at Struthers and Youngstown South field houses, not one has played a tougher schedule than Salem this season.

Over the past few seasons, one of the reasons cage fans throughout the district felt that Salem had been beaten in early tourney play was because they were overrated while establishing a fine record against poor opposition during the regular campaign.

Now the shoe is on the other foot. The Quakers, under the direction of John Cabas in his 13th season, finished with a 12-6 mark against some of the state's better combines.

A WINNING MARK was recorded this season by 14 of the 18 teams that Salem met. Five of them — Warren Harding Columbus East, Canton McKinley, Akron South and Massillon were selected to lofty positions in this week's AP survey.

Four of the six losses suffered by Salem were by less than five points one was by eight and the other was dropped to a veteran Columbus East aggregation in the opener 75-49.

What is remarkable about this year's unit, is they begin the season with only one letterman veteran Bill Beery who has rewritten a few scoring records.

The squad has developed a little with each contest and if the defense keeps improving, Salem should win its share in the tourney trail. In the last five games the Red and Black held the opposition to a 54 point average. Coach John Cabas will take his team to Struthers Field House for practice sessions Saturday and next Tuesday to prepare for their tournament clash with the Wildcats a week from today.

THE COLUMBIANA BOOSTER Club's chairman for the second annual Sports Appreciation Banquet, Don R. Gosney, has obtained two big-name sports figures as speakers for the April 2 dinner at South Side School in Columbiana.

E. E. "Rip" Miller one of the famed "seven mules" that opened holes for the equally famous "four horsemen" of the Knute Rockne-coached Notre Dame champions of 1924, will be the featured speaker.

Miller, director of athletics and Head Football Coach Wayne Hardin of the U. S. Naval Academy will headline the event, which drew over 500 people last year to hear OSU basketball coach Fred Taylor.

Tickets for the event can be obtained from Kenneth Brower, 118 Woodland Ave., or by telephoning IV-2-2014. Coaches Rich Berryman and George Fisher are in charge of the program and Ralph Goist is chairman of the advertising committee.

THE CLEVELAND Indians will have a new television policy in 1963. Except for "opening day" (April 9) and May 30th, the only games telecast will be on week-ends.

This will apply both at home and away, and includes home Sundays. The Tribe opener will be against Detroit at Municipal Stadium April 11 at 2 p.m.

For the 17th consecutive spring, the Cleveland Indians opened their baseball training at Tucson, Arizona, today and even though the old Western town hasn't changed considerably the Indians have.

On a roster of 43 men three of whom are currently in military service, 19 of them have never been on the Arizona site and only 16 of the players were with the club as recently as 1961.

Birdie Tebbetts, the personable new manager of the Tribe, made his last visit to the Indian camp in 1952 when he finished his own playing career in the major leagues.

He returns to Arizona this spring with the thought of making Cleveland a contender for the American League pennant.

BOB KENNEDY 17-season veteran of the major leagues, has been named the Chicago Cubs head coach. He will have a staff of 11 others to help him out.

The appointment was announced by Robert Whitlow, the Cubs' new athletic director. Kennedy guided Salt Lake City to a second place finish in the Pacific Coast league in his first managerial assignment last year.

CONSTRUCTION IS about to begin on a new ski and recreation area near the Village of Butler in southeastern Richland County Ohio. The area, to be known as the Clear Fork Valley Ski Area is nine miles from Interstate 71 and 15 miles from Mansfield.

When the area opens in early December 1963, it will boast a 2,500 ft. double chair lift a 1200 ft. T Bar lift and a 1000 ft. J bar lift as well as several beginners' rope tows. The chair lift slopes are laid out so that the lift will serve novices as well as more advanced skiers. The entire area will be covered with machine made snow when nature does not cooperate.

Four different ways to make going more fun than getting there

You can see why one of America's favorite outdoor sports is driving Chevrolets, with four entirely different kinds of cars like these to choose from. There's the Jet-smooth Chevrolet, about as luxurious as you can go without going overboard in price (has lots of new lower upkeep features, too, like a flush-and-dry rocker panel ventilating system that helps remove rust-causing salt and slush); the new low-cost Chevy II, a good-looking, fun-loving car that would send any family packing; another perennial family favorite, the sporty Corvair, whose rear-engine traction will make you think that ice and snow are kid stuff; and for pure driving adventure, America's only homegrown sports car, Corvette—now in two all-new versions with looks that can stop traffic like a rush-hour blizzard. Chances are you've already picked your favorite. The next thing is to take the wheel at your Chevrolet dealer's. If that doesn't have you thinking of places to go, maybe you'd rather just have a ball around town!

GOES WITH A GUSH — Trailing a 30-foot stream of water behind it, the "Pump Jet," an experimental hydrofoil, makes its public debut on Lake Washington at Seattle. The 20-foot-long craft, built by Boeing Co., is designed to reach speeds of more than 45 miles an hour using a jet of water for propulsion. A scoop built into the aft strut takes water into the boat and a high-speed centrifugal pump jets it out through a nozzle. The effect is the same as that of an aircraft jet engine. The result is that the 2½-ton craft is propelled forward fast enough for its hydrofoils, or underwater wings, to lift it so that it "flies" several feet above the surface.

each other form a background for a swiftly-moving plot.

THE MAN WHO PLAYED GOD by Robert St. John. This novel, large in size and in view, tells the story of the Jews caught in Hungary during the last two years of World War II. Chiefly, it is based on the story of Andor Horvath who bargains with the Nazis for the lives of as many Jews as can be packed into a long escape train. Comparisons with Leon Uris's Exodus are inevitable, some will prefer this, some the other. Robert F. Mirvis. Dimitri was only twelve, but he was the leader of a band of children whose families had been killed in World War II, and through his natural aptitude made enough money to keep the group comfortable. Mr. Mirvis's theme is that capitalism is the natural way for human beings to get along and Russians, like everybody else, if left to their own devices would revert at once to this system. He was himself on a merchant ship in Murmansk for some months, so he has observed first hand the things that he writes about.

SNOW JOB by Malcolm Gair. Murder and mystery in the Alps.

YET SHE MUST DIE by Hugh McCutcheon. A husband changes his mind after he has made plans to have his wife murdered.

Westers:
RECKLESS MEN by Clifton Adams. The cattle kings were having the farmers killed off one by one, but one of them determined to find the killer.

THE OREGON RIFLES by Dwight Bennett. Barney Stansel joined the Rifles to get away from his drunken father, but when he finds that only a few men have to guard the whole of the Oregon territory from marauding Indians, he knows this is going to be the hardest time of his life.

Virginia, with 747,610 inhabitants, was the most populous state when the first U.S. census was taken in 1790.

DUST AT THE MOUNTAIN by Haynes Johnson. An award-winning reporter for the Washington Star has been researching race relations in our nation's capital for years. What he has found out does not give us much reason for pride, but there have been some gains.

PUBLIC OPINION AND CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS by McPhee and Glaser. Studies in public opinion formation as a key to voting behavior, derived from four surveys of Congressional elections.

THE WELFARE STATE by Fred J. Cook. The author considers the great power of the military-industrial complex in this country the most frightening problems in this country today. If he has correctly analyzed the situation, we had better all start writing to our Congressmen today.

HISTORY OF AMERICAN EDUCATION by Harry G. Good. A comprehensive chronological survey of the philosophical background and developing institutions of American education. Dr. Good is Professor Emeritus from Ohio State University.

FLEANNOR ROOSEVELT'S

BOOK OF COMMON SENSE ETIQUETTE.

Completed only a few months before her death, this is quite a different sort of etiquette book than many. Mrs. Roosevelt's belief is first, that the real basis of etiquette is the consideration of others and second, that when we are not in our own country we are always considered by others as ambassadors of democracy and that it behooves us to consider ourselves as such.

CENTRIFUGAL PUMPS by Igor Karassik and Roy Carter. A comprehensive reference book for users and designers of centrifugal pumps. There is only so much theory as essential to the understanding of specific problems. This volume was a memorial gift.

MOTOR'S AUTO REPAIR MANUAL, 1963. So much used that there is almost never a copy from any year in the library, this is a most valuable help to the man who wants to repair his own car, or improve his technique in repairing other people's.

WE SEVEN by the Astronauts. The seven Astronauts have worked together as they have in Project Mercury, and it is a thoroughly fascinating account of what the Project is all about.

PETROLEUM by D. Petire. How petroleum was formed, how it is located, how prepared for use, and something about its chemical composition.

IMAGES OF TRUTH by Glenway Wescott. Mr. Wescott examines the works of six modern writers and discusses their different abilities as he knows them. The authors discussed are - Katherine Anne Porter, Somerset Maugham, Colette, Isak Dineson, Thomas Mann and Thornton Wilder.

A DOUBLEDAY ANTHOLOGY edited by Bucklin Moon. Excerpts from some of the famous books which have been published by Doubleday during their sixty years of existence. Authors include Ferber Baum, Costain, Coward, Helen Keller, Maugham and many others.

LIVES OF THE WITS by Hesketh Pearson. A new treatment of some famous literary figures of England. Mr. Pearson is known as a wit himself and his treatment of such men as Jonathan Swift Samuel Johnson, Richard Sheridan, Benjamin Disraeli, Oscar Wilde and several others is lively and readable.

ECHO IN MY SOUL by Septima Poinsette Clark, with Lettice Blythe. The story of a Negro woman who has spent her life working for better education and better living for her race.

THE NEHRUS, MOTILAL AND JAWAHARLAL by B. R. Nanda.

Biographies of the Prime Ministers by an Indian who has had access to the personal papers of the family. The book contains a resume of Indian history as well, because of the relations of the two men with events.

FICTION

MOUNTAIN TULIP LEGEND by David Buckman. The author has re-told and expanded an old legend about a half-breed Indian who was a hermit and lived in the Taconic mountains in New England sometime after the Revolutionary war.

THE COMMISSIONER by Richard Dougherty. A novel about a few of the members of the New York City police department. The author has worked with this Department, and in various other agencies in New York. He shows many different levels of society here, and tells a fast-paced story of a man-hunt and all of those directly and indirectly involved in it.

OCCASION FOR LOVING by Nadine Gordimer. This author again writes of Africa and its many problems and tensions. Among the principal problems discussed here is that of two people of different races who are in love.

THE DOWNHILL RACERS by Oakley Hall. A novel of relationships of various members of the international ski set with each other. Their pride, independence, their fiercely competitive natures and their personal relations with

THERE'S AN ART TO IT

JUST LIKE sidewalk superintendents, would-be artists like to watch Dr. Harry Wood "construct" portraits at his school in Sedona, Ariz. Doctor Wood, chairman of the art department at Arizona State University, explains how to mix colors and how he brings out subject's character while he paints. He has done portraits of such figures as Yehudi Menuhin, and Ambassador Adlai Stevenson.

Subject is Rev. Herman Hughes, John Carroll University in Cleveland.

This is case of art department head painting an associate professor of English.

An author and lecturer, Doctor Wood adds another finished portrait.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Answer Child's Sex Queries

Sex education can be destructive rather than constructive. It is not just a father-to-son or mother-to-daughter lecture, nor a pamphlet on coming of age presented with the approach of puberty. It is not just an anatomy lesson, nor a discourse on the physiology of reproduction. Primarily, sex education is the transmitting to a child of attitudes regarding sex. If by word or deed you give your child the impression that sex is something dirty, he will go through life with an emotional scar that will prevent his achievement of life's greatest joys—happy marriage and parenthood.

IT IS ONLY THE abuse of sex that is dirty or that has grim consequences. Proper sex education not only prevents a serious emotional handicap, it is also our most powerful weapon against venereal disease. It is essential, therefore, that all of a child's early questions about sex be answered simply, truthfully and without embarrassment. Unfortunate indeed is the parent who finds it impossible to do this, for between such a parent and his or her child a lack of understanding will create an ever-widening gap. The preschool child need not be given a long, technical answer but should be told enough to satisfy his curiosity, and what he is told must be the truth. One mother, when asked by her 5-year-old son where he came from, told him, "Before you were born I carried you right under my heart." No more information was needed. The boy appeared to be well pleased with this thought and went outside to play. I think this mother handled the situation very well, and I have no fears that she will not add to this knowledge by bits and pieces gradually as her son grows older.

SEX EDUCATION is a function that can best be shared by home, school, and church. But the attitudes learned in the home outweigh all others. A parent who objects to the proper presentation of certain phases of this subject in the school his child attends may be obstructing not only the normal development of his own child, but that of his neighbor's children. If his own child has already received this information, hearing it again in wholesome surroundings will not hurt him. If he has not already learned about sex at home he is going to learn about it willy-nilly. So anything that can be done to present the subject in a proper light can only be a force for good.

The ideal solution, but one not likely to be achieved soon, is for all parents to be enlightened not only about the spiritual meaning of sex but also about how properly to present their knowledge to their children.

The evening starts with dinner at 7 p.m. in Berndt's Restaurant in Youngstown. Reservations will be handled by Tom Hess, President of Columbiana.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Dairy Association says some groups are making a concerted effort to talk Americans into changing their diets by associating heart disease with consumption of animal fats.

In its weekly newsletter, the dairy organization said these efforts are promoting vegetable oils as a substitute for dairy fats, meats and meat products with fats in them.

"The subject continues to get a great deal of space in newspapers and magazines. And the bookstore shelves devoted to dietary information keep getting longer every week," the letter said.

Attacks being made on animal fats were said to be contrary to statements by "major medical and public health groups pointing out that there is no sound evidence to warrant any major changes in the American diet to avoid heart disease."

"Since it is obvious who would stand to gain by such a change (in diet), it is not unreasonable to assume," the dairy group said, "that there is a great deal of effort—some open, some undoubtedly under cover—to keep planting doubts in as many minds as possible," the letter said.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman wants the national forests to get in on the 50-mile hikes inspired by President Kennedy's recent fitness order for the Marine Corps. "With hiking the talk of the town these days, I'd like to pass along some information that would encourage hiking in the national forests," the secretary said in a statement.

"These forests have enough trails for a person to hike 50 miles a week on a different terrain for the best part of his life," Freeman said there are national forests within half a day's driving distance of almost every American family.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eggs, like some dairy products, are losing sales ground at the grocery store.

The Agriculture Department reported today that per capita consumption last year averaged 323 eggs, down 2 from the 1961 average. But last year's rate is far below past levels. Ten years ago, consumption averaged 390 a year.

Officials said red meats are tending to replace eggs in diets of many consumers.

The department predicted this year's average will be down to about 317 eggs.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Baby chick production by hatcheries in January was 206 million, up one per cent from January last year.

Reporting this, the Agriculture Department said 175 million were for the broiler industry and 32 million for egg production purposes.

Our Students

Janice Faye Schory, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Schory, 1932 Monroe St., has been accepted at Columbus Business University for the semester starting in June.

A number of species of rare, strange birds are to be found in New Zealand, which is a natural zoo. Of these rare birds, many can't fly, one species flies in dens instead of nests and a particular kind of wood hen is a major killer of rats and small dogs.

In and About Our Schools

School Garden Clubs

Projects pertaining to the study of birds were judged when the Junior Garden Clubs sponsored by the Salem Garden Club met at Prospect Street School the morning of Feb. 12 and at Fourth Street School in the afternoon.

Blue ribbons were presented to Mark Bartholomew and Cindy Coy of Prospect School; Scott Riffe, Lonnie Gilbert and Ruth McClure of Fourth Street School; red ribbons went to Janice McNutt and Janice Deane of Prospect, and Fred Saftred, Harry Ewing and Gary Porter of Fourth Street; winners of yellow award ribbons were Debbie McKinney and Joyce Deane of Prospect, and Mike Milligan, Twing DeJana and Gail Heinerman of Fourth Street.

A film, "Birds of Ohio," was shown. Articles were presented regarding the plight of the bald eagle, which is threatened with extinction.

Bird feeders were made for junior members to take home.

Salem Garden Club members in charge of the program were Mrs. Charles Corbett, Mrs. Z. R.

Taylor, Mrs. Elwood Hammell, Mrs. Karl Zellers and Mrs. Victor Ballinger.

The club will meet again at the schools March 12.

In the Service

Miss Mary Katherine Oliver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic E. Oliver of Leetonia, has enlisted in the United States Marine Corps for a three-year period.

Miss Oliver is a 1962 graduate of Leetonia High School and was inducted into the Marines Feb. 8, according to S. Sgt. A. P. LeBlanc, area recruiter.

Enlistments in the Corps are open to women between the ages of 18 and 30, with more information available from Sgt. LeBlanc, who is in his office in room 26 at the Memorial Building from 10 a.m. until noon on Mondays and Thursdays.

$1 WORTH OF NEATNESS

PERRY, Iowa (AP) — Mrs. Tom McDonnell of Perry promised her Boy Scout grandson $1 if he brought his suitcase home from camp as neatly packed as it was when he left.

The boy won the $1. How? He confessed he'd worn the same clothing all week at camp, and hadn't even opened the suitcase.

Questions—Answers

- Q—Do the snake charmers of India really charm the cobras?
- A—No. Snakes are deaf, and when they are being charmed they are only holding themselves on guard. They would do the same thing without the music.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

I want to congratulate the owners of Paris Cleaners for doing away with trading stamps. A lady from radio station WOHI was up to get information about the Country Store for my ads on her program. Her husband gave stamps at his dry cleaning business in Wellsville, he did away with them also.

I tried to warn people that they were not all good but some thought I was talking through my hat and had to find out for themselves.

Berlin Center Happenings

Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Bunker Hill Methodist Church met in the church Thursday with 20 members and two guests, Mrs. Maude Cochran of Wilmore, Ky. and Mrs. Shirley Surmacevz of Salem, in attendance.

Prayer was offered by Mrs. Robert Maurer in keeping with the topic "Race Relations." Mrs. John King gave a history of Negro spirituals, and presented a collection of spirituals which the group sang. Mrs. C. Ray Stanley, program leader, introduced the subject "Two Churches Seek a Christian Community" which was presented in a play with Mrs. Harry Thomas, Mrs.

Frank Baird, Mrs. Chester Lucas, Mrs. Donald Baird and Mrs. Ralph Fotia participating.

Mrs. Frank Baird, president, announced the World Day of Prayer to be held in the Friends Church in Damascus March 1 with Damascus Friends and Methodist Churches, Bunker Hill Methodist and East Goshen Friends participating. She also announced a Steubenville District meeting at Wellsville March 4.

Lunch, with Valentine appointments, was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Kenneth Heston and Mrs. Glenn Maurer. The next meeting will be held in the church March 14.

BUFFALO OFF BADGE?

OMAHA (AP)—Whether to retire a 25 year member of the Omaha Police Force has prompted a major debate. The veteran is the buffalo which stands atop every Omaha police officer's badge.

A poll of members of the force showed them split over the suggestion of Public Safety Commissioner Chris Gugus that the badge be streamlined and the bison removed.

Agreed a sergeant: "The buffalo dominates the whole badge. There's a risk people might think you're a forest ranger or a zoo keeper."
